

Go visit hidden beaches and one of Corsica's most beautiful beaches, Plage de Saleccia.

Go on an adventurous boat trip along the coastline north of Île Rousse, where you get to see the mighty Désert des Agreates from the sea, and the famous Plage de Saleccia. Most of the area is only accessible by boat, off-road cars or hiking and therefore the area is completely undeveloped. The only sounds you can hear are the chirring of cicadas in the groves of Corsican pine and the contented lowing of a handful of chestnut-coloured cows that occasionally shows up for a visit. And who knows, maybe a wild fox or two?

We will first walk down to the harbour of Île Rousse. From here, we will go by rib-boat along the beautiful coastline which gives us amazing views over the landscape. We will follow the Agriates desert northbound and make stops for swimming at well selected spots. Eventually, we pass by the famous Plage de Saleccia before making a longer stop at a smaller and more private beach that is less crowded. Here you can swim in the crystal-clear turquoise water, hike along the coast, relax by the beach or watch the boats passing by, the choice is yours!
